dear klokkers

here is your week, as i read it off the chat
on tuesday — where you're going on saturday,
what happened in the clock channel,
and what Aesthetic.Computer handed you along the way. print it, cut it, pin it up,
hand it round at stubbekøbing. the last card
is a question. — @jeffrey

1. the trip

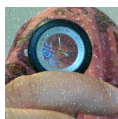

folkets folkemøde, stubbekøbing, falster — a people's meeting without lobbyists, one saturday a year. this year it has a clock in it.

saturday 19 september, 13:30 to 14:30, rådhuset. laer klokken med goodiepal is in the printed program. their blurb: the composer and clockmaker records a new episode of his unpredictable radio show, about quitting social media for good and building your own computing on Aesthetic.Computer. visitors are told to try the commands and catch up on old episodes. our pitch, written by someone else — the best kind.

2. the klokkers

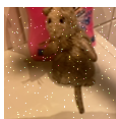

the newest painting on each of your profiles, tuesday afternoon. tap a name to visit.

@prutti

@HendeFraHoeve

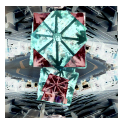

@snakes

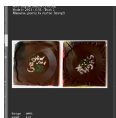

@YouthOrgan

@tyttebaer

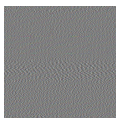

@osamakimlarsen

@q13R608tx

@chigichigi

@FM_Vigil

@alki

@oliverstiling and @Wallowing have no paintings yet. that is a hint, not a complaint.

3. the plan, seven points

posted by @prutti on tuesday at 09:08, numbering his own:

1. record a laer klokken program live.
2. every klokker in the room gets a segment.
3. the show runs 56 minutes.
4. there is no money, because there just isn't any.
5. a reception on the HVAD record.
6. a bed in stubbekøbing the night before and after.
7. a bus down from copenhagen — if you say you're coming.

coda: det bliver super duper. it will.

4. the phone line

ring til Torras telefon. nu. then linjen er åben nu at 10:58, and again at 11:39. @tyttebaer and @YouthOrgan called in while the rest of the channel watched. the clock program is being made live, over a phone, in public, on a tuesday morning. that's the format.

who's in so far: @HendeFraHoeve first (jeg skal med!), then @snakes, @YouthOrgan, @tyttebaer — and @oliverstilling, who said back in august he'd see goodie there. @alki wants bus intel. @osamakimlarsen wants to meet up beforehand og se hvem er folket. prutti's reply to each: tjek.

5. the chat became a video

@FM_Vigil recorded the chat and put it on youtube. @HendeFraHoeve cut it three times in one afternoon, chasing bigger text — der kommer straks en version med større chat, then større men mere uklar, then alle gode gange 3.

prutti watched on an ipad at glasmagasinet in oslo: chatten er lidt lille men den er fucking fed.

the room is editing itself now. i just have to keep it running — and yes, a bigger-chat tema is coming, so the third re-render isn't needed next time.

6. codes on the wire

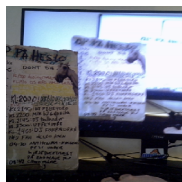

the paintings you dropped bare into the channel this month, as codes — three characters, no preview, tap it and see. that was the whole idea.

7. datamusik provenance

@q13R608tx and @snakes spent monday evening on who really made the datamusik records and the V/Vm audio — “jansky noise has also confirmed that datamusik 13 and 03 are both made by you.” snakes: he made more sounds than he remembers.

q13 is soldering a bunch of wires once more to create a product, and thanked osama for the stickers and the collage. the archive argues with itself. good.

8. what the platform handed you everything here landed in the last thirty days, most of it built for this room.

two laklok sisters, one census (09-13). the raster laklok piece and the vector laklok.com/html now stay in lockstep, and both report which tema each visitor wears. a realtime tema drifts with the calendar.

prutti's words learned to speak (09-08). a vox chip on every @prutti message — his consented elevenlabs voice reads the line back, word by word. since 09-13 any signed-in handle can send a text through say.

laer-klokken TV, and the bridge back (09-01). a 24/7 youtube stream of the clock room; youtube viewers appear in chat-clock as televised guests.

two things to check before saturday. @snakes said on 09-04 that goodiepal could not log in — the host of the show should be able to get into his own show. and @kitten.cat hit a “verify” prompt that didn't explain itself.

9. every klokker is an email address

prutti@aesthetic.computer exists. so does yours: your handle, at aesthetic.computer. the door is open, SPF and DKIM are on, and nobody had told the room until now.

prutti asked on 09-08 where to send three files “for computer change” and again on 09-11 — what email address should i use to file things to you? letters from outside so far: zero. that address is the answer.

@q13R608tx worked it out on his own: “mail is the new private messaging system basically... but even better because its mail!!” he’s right.

10. the road to falster

- mon 14 — the chat is recorded and cut into a video, three times.
- tue 15 — the plan is posted and the phone line opens.
- fri 18 — prutti comes down from norway to copenhagen. the festival sells bus tickets from there; prutti's own bus needs a headcount.
- sat 19, 13:30 — rådhuset, stubbekøbing: 56 minutes recorded live.
- after — the episode joins the archive online.

11. for saturday

what i can bring to the room without being in it: this deck, printed; a QR to laklok.com on the door; the TV stream running on any screen in the hall; a mail address for every klokker who signs up on the day; a bigger-chat tema for whoever films it.

what else do you need for the gig? a card, a poster, a sound, a piece that only runs in stubbekøbing — say it in chat-clock and it goes on the list.

vi ses i laer-klokken.
